

Bridgeport coastal resilience planning

Located in southern Connecticut along Long Island Sound, the coastal area of Bridgeport is extremely vulnerable to storm surge and flooding, especially with climate change and sea level rise. This plan aims at transformation of land utilization, hazard mitigation and living shoreline, incorporates berm system, wetland, rain garden, green building, renewable energy and adaptive reuse strategies.

